

BLUE MOUNTAIN
COLLEGE
OFFICE OF THE PROVOST

March 20, 2020

Students:

Blue Mountain College is not the same without your smiling faces and I have missed you! Difficult times require extreme measures and transitioning on-ground courses to distance learning will require diligence on the part of the faculty and students. Our faculty have been working hard this week to make this transition so you can finish the semester strong. I ask for your patience as we work through the circumstances we did not choose but which life has given us. I am certain that God has not been surprised by this in any way.

Online Class Attendance-----Policy 2.29: Distance Education states: "Blue Mountain College requires class attendance for online courses. . . . Seventy-five percent of the assignments for the week must be completed within the week to receive full attendance."
Be sure to complete your assignments in a timely fashion each week.

Christina Smith in the Office of Career Services and Student Success is available by email or by phone to assist you. In addition, Dr. Teague in the TLC is available to you by email or phone. She is working to set up tutoring for those of you who need that. Be sure to let her know your needs.

Please do not hesitate to contact me through email at senzor@bmc.edu if you need assistance in any way. You may also call BMC extension 136 to speak with me.
